

As of 4/15/22, DataBETA will be IRB-approved with infrastructure in place, ready to recruit subjects and crowdsource funds.

If you wish for a job actively promoting healthy longevity, and are comfortable managing a non-profit research study, read on.

DataBETA is a study of biohackers and life extension enthusiasts. We are recruiting and surveying a sample of ~5,000 such people to see what they are doing, and then we will offer them methylation tests to determine what, if anything, actually helps to slow biological aging.

The Program Director will oversee all aspects of the project and hire staff to manage fundraising, social media, and interface with participants.

This could be a full-time job if you wish to take on extra responsibility, or a contract/flex-time job if you prefer to delegate more.

If this stirs your passions, please contact Walter Crompton.
